

What's in my... closet

TODAY'S GUIDE: Atlanta Hawks SG Joe Johnson
AS TOLD TO STACEY PRESSMAN

1 JEWELRY

"I bought this chain 10 years ago when I was 20. It's probably worth at least $150,000 now. It reminds me of the decisions I made when I was younger. I still like the chain and still wear it sometimes, but it's not a purchase I would make today."

2 WATCH

"Every guy needs a nice watch. It's an essential. This one is from Jason of Beverly Hills. It's just a regular old watch, but it looks sharp. I love watches. I have more than 20—some blingy, some plain and some cheap. I like to change it up."

3 BLAZERS

"When I was 20, I lived in sweatpants and T-shirts. I never wore nice suits or fancy clothes. If David Stern had enforced a dress code my first few years, I would've been in trouble. I still like my style to be low-key and laid-back. One thing I like to do is wear vests with my jackets."

4 GRABBER

"I'm 6'7", but the ceiling in my closet is about 20 feet high. I couldn't reach all of my stuff until I got this grabber, which is made by Unger. Now I can reach about 13 feet. I use it all the time when I'm getting dressed."

6 SNEAKERS

"I wanted to display all of my shoes, so I had this 500-square-foot closet made. I just thought this would be a cool idea, and it would almost look like a museum. I had a fingerprint sensor put on the door to make sure I'm the only one who can get in here. I mostly wear Air Jordans. All of the Jordan guys are selected by Michael Jordan himself. It's kind of hard to tell me no. I have 436 pairs of sneakers in here and they're mostly unworn. I'll wear all of them eventually."